Martyrdom Details and History

Martyr Mokhlesur Rahman was born on September 14, 1999, in Hiranya Bari village, Sarishabari Thana, Jamalpur District. His father, Md. Habibur Rahman (65), was formerly a farmer, and his mother, Morium Begum (55), is a homemaker. Known as a poet and writer, Shaheed Mokhlesur Rahman used to send some money to his parents by doing odd jobs. Without informing anyone in the family, Mokhlesur Rahman joined the student movement in Dhaka city on July 17. That day, there was a clash between the police and the students. Mokhlesur Rahman was injured around 9:00 PM. He spoke to his father. He reassured his father, "Father, I am fine, nothing has happened to me. Please pray for me." This was his last conversation. The next day, July 18, Mokhlesur Rahman joined the movement again. However, this time he did not inform anyone at home. The family tried to find him but were unsuccessful. On July 20, the family confirmed that Martyr Mokhlesur Rahman had passed away. His burial was completed on July 21.

Context of Martyrdom

The martyr's father, Md. Habibur Rahman, was once a prosperous farmer. He dreamed of raising his sons and daughters by cultivating crops on his own land. To cover the educational expenses of his children, he sold all his land and became destitute. Shaheed Mokhlesur Rahman used to help his father by earning small amounts to support the family.

He joined the movement on July 17. Despite being injured, he joined the movement again the next day, July 18. After that, no news of him was available. On July 20, a phone call came to the anxious family from an unknown number. The person on the phone informed them that Mokhlesur Rahman was seriously injured and had a major head injury. The family was requested to come to the hospital. But after a while, another phone call came from the police station. A police SI informed them that Mokhlesur Rahman's body had been found on the banks of the Turag River in Tongi. Thus, a young, emerging poet and writer, Mokhlesur Rahman, was lost forever in the movement's procession.

Feelings of Relatives After Martyrdom

When the news of the death of the poet and writer Martyr Mokhlesur Rahman spread, a shadow of grief fell over the area. Father Habibur Rahman said, "I sold all my land to raise my son. And that son gave his life for the country. Now I have nothing, neither son nor land."
